The Office of International Students and Scholars (ISS) at Oklahoma State University provides special support services to sponsored students and scholars. These services are designed to reduce stress levels, ease transitions and promote sustained academic and personal success. The customized support provided by ISS extends beyond standard university services and is designed to meet the unique needs of sponsors and sponsored students. ISS professionals possess vast international experience, years of dedication to international student services and a commitment to ensuring the professional administration of sponsor programs.

World Cup Soccer Tournament

The application response time for sponsored students is the most efficient through the ISS office. Our Sponsored Student Coordinator works closely with admission units to expedite the processing of applications and redistributing acceptance materials to sponsors and applicants.
